BLAINE IN THE FIELD.

A Special from a New York Source, Endorsed as Reliable.

Says Blaine Has Assented to an Aggressive Campaign

And Will Not Decline if He Receives the Nomination.

His Friends Working Systematically and Earnestly.

The Blaine Programme.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—The Times will publish to-morrow the following triple-leaded special from New York, which it will endorse as coming direct from a most authentic source.

NEW YORK, May 4. I have entirely reliable information that the friends of Blaine have within the last three days received direct from him his assent to an aggressive movement for his renomination for president and the acceptance that renomination in the face of his Florence letter of declination he would not feel at liberty to decline. A general and systematic effort has been made by Blaine's closest friends, such as Chairman Jones, William Walter Phelps, Whitelaw Reid, Chauncey Depew, Smith and others for two months past to get Blaine into the attitude of a passive candidate. The Washington conference was only part of the united methods by which influences have been brought to bear upon Blaine. And the publishing of his portrait freshly taken from life in Italy and issued by Judge this week was decided on more than a month ago as a good starting point for an effort to make Blaine a candidate. Every possible pressure has been put upon Blaine to get from him a direct assurance that he will not decline if nominated, and that assurance has been received in this city within the last three days. In a few days more it will cease to be a secret that Blaine is in the hands of his friends, as the Blaine leaders will at once come to the front and make an aggressive campaign for his re-nomination. This movement has been pretty clearly foreshadowed for some weeks in such Blaine organs as the Tribune of this city, and the Philadelphia Press, and all speculation about Blaine's candidacy will now soon be thrown off and the battle made an aggressive one. Part of the original programme was the election of Charles Emery Smith as delegate at large from your state, and his failure was a great disappointment to the Blaine junto in this city, but Mr. Smith gives assurance that Blaine can command a majority of the Pennsylvania delegation under any circumstances, and that if his nomination shall seem to be assured, the delegation will be solid for him. The unexpected expressions in Massachusetts and Vermont for Blaine were not accidental, nor were they unexpected to Blaine's friends. When all the anti-Blaine men were reposing on their oars because they regarded Blaine as out of the fight, friends of Blaine were most energetic in their work in the two anti-Blaine New England states, and they got possession of Vermont and Massachusetts, while the others were sleeping in fancied security. It was the capture of these two lilliputian anti-Blaine New England states that made Blaine cast aside his doubts and assent to the importunities of his friends for his renomination. It is now a positive fact that Blaine is in the field, that his friends have his assent to a movement in his favor and that he will be nominated at Chicago if hard work and plenty of enthusiasm can accomplish it.

Delegates Elected.

PORTLAND, May 4. The Washington territorial republican convention convened at Yakima. Judge Turner was elected chairman. O. C. White, E. B. Hyde, I. T. Miner, W. J. Thompson, Edward Whitson and T. H. Cavanaugh were chosen delegates to the national convention, uninstructed.

Union Labor Convention.

ST. LOUIS, May 4.—The union labor party of Missouri held their state convention at Sedalia to-day. Twenty-five delegates were present, representing twelve congressional districts. W. H. Moore of St. Louis was made temporary chairman and Fred Lipscomb of Springfield secretary. The convention then adjourned until evening. On reassembling the committee on resolutions reported a platform embracing the resolutions adopted at the Cincinnati convention in 1886. Delegates at large were elected as follows: Chas. Nolan, George W. Pike, David Cowan and G. B. De Barardi.

An Inexplicable Deed.

ALTOONA, Ill., May 4.—The remains of General Martin Beem, of Chicago, will be interred here. The unfortunate death of General Beem by suicide at Stanton, Neb., was a most unexpected blow to his friends and relatives, to whom the deed is inexplicable, unless on grounds given by many, namely, unhappy domestic relations. The deceased was well known in Montana and Washington territory, where he spent some time after the close of the war.

A Texas Tornado.

TEXARKANA, Ark., May 4.—A heavy tornado and hail storm passed north of the city, unroofing houses and uprooting trees. There are reports of much damage to crops and killing of stock. The track of the storm was from the southwest to the northeast, and it was about 100 yards wide. The hail was the largest and heaviest ever known in this section and riddled gardens and stripped trees of their foliage.

Scramble of Strikers.

PITTSBURG, May 4. The strikers of the Edgar Thompson steel works held a meeting to-day, and resolved to declare the strike off. Great indignation was expressed on account of those who had broken the ranks and returned to work, and a resolution was passed that all those men should be considered black sheep. A scramble for places still vacant is now in progress, and by Monday the works will be running double time. The Pinkerton guards will be withdrawn at once.

Fire at Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, May 4. The Los Angeles Cracker Company's block and the residence of H. Webber burned last night. Total loss is supposed to have reached in the flames. The loss is fully $75,000; insurance about ten thousand.

Wool Markets.

BOSTON, May 4.—Wool—Demand light; prices unsettled. Ohio and Pennsylvania extra clothing 28 to 29, X 27 to 28, No. 1 Michigan 25 to 26, combing and delaine 29 to 30, territory wools 25 to 27, scoured Territory 45 to 50, California 34 to 36. Other grades unchanged.

A Pugilist Paralyzed.

GLEN COVE, L. I., May 4.—Mike Burns and Pat Sutton, pugilists from Waterbury, Conn., fought forty-seven rounds here this morning. After the first few rounds science was wholly disregarded, and Sutton knocked his opponent out in the fiftieth round.

A Fatal Explosion.

LONDON, May 4.—An explosion of gas occurred to-day in a tunnel in course of construction near Messina. Six men were killed and many more fatally injured. Several who were rescued were in a dying condition. At the time 350 workmen were in the tunnel.

Fire at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 4.—The substantial structure known as the "old market" building, located on F street between Fifth and Sixth, was destroyed by fire this morning. The hardware store adjoining was also destroyed and a number of other buildings slightly scorched. Losses of Ingle and those of the old market building aggregate $150,000; cause, spontaneous combustion.

Farewell to Crook.

OMAHA, May 4.—The Union club, together with other prominent citizens, gave Major General Crook a farewell reception and banquet this evening. General Crook leaves for Chicago to-morrow. General Brooke, his successor, has command of the department of the Platte, arrived here to-day, and was a guest at the banquet.

Under New York.

NEW YORK, May 4.—It is officially announced that a syndicate of prominent American capitalists with European connections have undertaken to supply the funds for a speedy construction of the proposed underground railway system in this city. The amount required is very large, as a large share of the road will have to be cut through solid rock.

Status of the U. Strike.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Members of the press committee of Burlington strikers say that the strike is still on. The rumor that it has been declared off is true so far only as concerns the C. B. and Northern line. Chiefs Arthur and Sargent practically declared the strike off on this road about three weeks ago, by instructing the men to work when they could.

The Emperor's Progress.

BERLIN, May 4. This morning's bulletin says: The emperor is free from fever and able to rise. His strength is gradually increasing. No further bulletins will be issued unless the emperor relapses.

BERLIN, May 4.—Emperor Frederick this evening dined with the crown prince and princess, the empress and his three daughters.

Spanish Pilgrims.

ROME, May 4. The pope yesterday received a party of Spanish pilgrims. It was expected that the audience would be made an occasion for a Carlist demonstration, but nothing of the kind occurred. The pope, in his address to the pilgrims, highly praised the queen regent and exhorted all political parties in Spain not to disturb the general concord existing in their country.

England's Military Strength.

LONDON, May 4.—In the commons today Smith, government leader, replying to a question by Lord Charles Beresford regarding the dangerous weakness of the army and navy, denied that either was in a dangerous condition. He said the government considered that no such condition was desirable and therefore a commission would be appointed with Lord Hartington president, to report on the civil and professional administration.

Strike of Switchmen.

LOS ANGELES, May 4. The freight department of the Southern Pacific road was tied up to-day owing to a strike of switchmen. Night switchmen demanded more pay or shorter hours of labor, and day switchmen have joined them. The night men now work 13 hours and get the same pay as day men working 10 hours. Officials of the road say the men were unreasonable and hasty, and the places will be filled with new men unless the strikers return to work at once. No settlement has been reached yet.

An Unnatural Brother.

BOSTON, May 4.—A prominent real estate dealer named Luke F. Holman was last evening arrested for conspiring to have his sister murdered. The intended victim, Miss Emeline Holman, resides in Worcester, and owns considerable property, and it was for the purpose of getting this into his hands that Holman conceived the plan. He made arrangements with two men to do the job, but they betrayed him to the police. He was arraigned this afternoon and placed under $25,000 to answer.

A Fatal Affray.

HOT SPRINGS, ARK., May 4. John H. Atkins, ex-chief of police, was fatally shot in Bryant's saloon last night. Atkins and Joseph Sample, a liveryman, had engaged in two fist fights during the afternoon in the same saloon. After the last fight Atkins armed himself and returned to the saloon. Immediately upon entering the shooting began, three shots being fired in quick succession. Atkins was found lying on the floor with a bullet through his body. He stated that Bryant and Chief of Police Hart shot him. Bryant and Sample are under arrest.

Centennial Anniversary.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Cox of New York presented in the house a bill for an appropriation in reference to the following memorial from Generals Schofield, Slocum and other members of the army of the Potomac, asking for an appropriation of $25,000 to aid in meeting the expenses of the fraternal reunion of survivors of the army of the Potomac and the armies of northern Virginia, to be held on the battle field of Gettysburg in July next to commemorate the 25th anniversary of that conflict.

A Family of Seven Burned.

ARLINGTON, Neb., May 4.—The Freeze ranch buildings, a few miles from here, were destroyed by fire. The family, with the exception of one daughter, who is absent from home, numbering seven persons were burned. The charred remains were identified by their statures. It is supposed they lost their lives trying to save the animals in the barn and all were suddenly overcome with suffocation. Some think there was foul play, as the hired man is missing. About fifteen animals, horses and cows burned.

THE FISHERIES TREATY

Edmunds Submits His Adverse Report on the Fisheries Treaty.

He Holds that Only National Rights Are Secured by It.

Action to be Taken At [illegible] Present Outlook.

Representatives of the Northwest on the Tariff Bill.

The Fisheries Treaty.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The republican members of the foreign relations committee of the senate held a meeting to-day to hear the majority adverse report on the fisheries treaty, which had been prepared by Senator Edmunds, and is now complete. The report takes the ground that the treaty secures nothing of value to the United States except what belongs to the United States by natural rights. The treaty will probably be reported next week, and taken up as soon as the Chinese treaty is disposed of.

Fifteenth Congress.

HOUSE.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Johnson, of Indiana, from the committee on elections, submitted the report in the California contested election case of Lynch vs. Vandever, and it was referred to the house calendar. The report is unanimously in favor of Vandever, the sitting member.

Private business having been dispensed with the house went into committee of the whole on the [illegible] bill.

Caswell, of Wisconsin, criticized the method of tariff reduction proposed by the ways and means, declaring it did not provide for any substantial decrease upon articles of general consumption. The committee should have provided, he contended, for the entire removal of the duty on sugar. That course would take $1 tax from the food of every man, woman and child. Such relief would extend to every family, rich and poor. He would give a reasonable bounty for sugar produced in the United States, but he would no longer continue a great tax on the mouths of 60,000,000 people under the guise of a tax for revenue.

McDonald, of Minnesota, spoke in opposition to the protection system, and expatiated upon the injuries resulting to the people by locking up a vast surplus in the treasury.

Guenther, of Wisconsin, remarked that his college had swallowed the whole dose prepared by the democratic majority and seemed to relish it greatly, endeavoring by political sophistry to persuade the people of his district that it was a very palatable decoction, a panacea for all evils, a long-looked-for democratic St. Jacob's oil that would heal all evils of the body politic. (Laughter.) He was in favor of restoring the wool tariff of 1867. He was a firm believer in a tariff which not only supplied means for the expenses of the government, but at the same time built up and encouraged home manufacture, developed the inexhaustible resources of the country and gave the men of the country of his birth employment. He did not feel called upon as an American to give aid to them at the expense of the laboring people of America.

Caruth, of Kentucky, [illegible] on tax on empty bottles?

Guenther "I'm all right. How are you on full bottles?" (Laughter.)

In conclusion he expressed a willingness to allow the people to bring in a verdict in the case of protection against free trade, and he proplesied the verdict would consign the democratic party to a place among the stragglers in the grand national procession of American industry.

Wheeler, of Alabama, spoke in favor of the bill.

The committee then rose and the house took recess until 8 o'clock, the evening session to be for the consideration of private pension bills.

An Aged Widow Robbed.

MOLINE, Ill., May 4.—Two masked men committed a bold robbery at Rapid City, Wednesday night, the victim being Mrs. G. Mohr, an aged German widow. Mrs. Mohr has a good sized bank account and had made arrangements to loan $1,000 to parties who were to call for it yesterday. Mrs. Mohr accordingly went to the bank and drew the money, intending to keep it in her house over night. She had just retired when she heard a noise and going to the kitchen found two masked men in the room. One of the men seized Mrs. Mohr and putting a revolver to her head demanded the money. She at first protested that she had drawn none, but as the robbers would not be put off gave them $500, saying it was all she had. They demanded the rest of the money, at the same time telling her that they knew how much she had drawn from the bank and must have it all. She then gave them the balance, and after binding her the thieves left.

Condition of Trade.

NEW YORK, May 4.—R. G. Dun & Co. in their Weekly Trade Review say: It makes all the difference whether the situation is observed by a prophet or a photographer. The streets are full of prophets who see sure indications favorable or unfavorable, and the prevailing impression regarding the future is decidedly hopeful. But the facts as they stand disclose an uncertain state of business improvement in some branches and increasing depression in others, but hesitation and waiting on all sides. The net result has been a little advance in the prices of securities, with a considerable decline in the prices of commodities. Anxieties about money have been dispelled by treasury purchases of bonds, but it is still uncertain whether the secretary will be able much longer to get enough bonds to prevent the accumulation of money. The prospect of a reduction of revenue does not increase. At the interior, however, money is generally in ample supply for the existing demand.

Reports of trade from interior points are enthusiastic inactivity or quiet as the prevailing feature, with more frequent complaints of slow collections. Clearings of banks outside of New York continue to slightly exceed those of last year, but less than the difference in prices, which implies the transfer of a slightly smaller quantity of products. Speculation in wheat has been rather active, but the net advance in price was only a question of a cent, with the same in corn, while oats decline about a cent. Reports of injury to wheat have become more definite, but the telegraph brings news of extensive rains at Denver, Omaha, Milwaukee and in California.

Irishmen Warn the Priests Not to Read the Rescript.

The Irish Struggle.

LONDON, May 4.—The Freeman's Journal says Parnell will make an important pronouncement at the Eighty club dinner on the 8th inst. Parnell believes it says, that the agrarian movement can be conducted with [illegible] without collision with the religious feeling of Irishmen.

The charge against William O'Brien of inciting people to hold league meetings has been withdrawn.

Dillon in a speech, at Kilmurrry, County Cork, to-day, advised the people to adopt the plan of campaign and to boycott all persons who take evicted farms. Though the people, he said, were bound to obey the commands of Rome in matters of church discipline, they would not have their politics dictated to them by Italians.

Warning the Priests.

LONDON, May 4.—The people of a number of parishes in Ireland have [illegible] the priests not of the pope's proclamation against the Leaguers is read in the churches, they will [illegible] by leaving.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Money on call easy at 1½ to 2 per cent; prime paper 3 to 5; sterling exchange 4.86½ for 60 day bills, 4.88 for demand. Almost all rim seemed to have parted from the stock market to-day, and the total sales for the day were the smallest that have been seen for over two weeks, while the interest in speculation was at the lowest ebb for more than that time, traders having the making of quotations in their hands most of the day. As a consequence final prices are in most cases lower than last evening. The few advances recorded are for small fractions only. Government bonds quiet and easy.

The Methodist Conference.

NEW YORK, May 4.—Bishop Foss, of Minneapolis, presided at to-day's session of the Methodist Episcopal conference. The order of the day was the debate on the eligibility of women as lay delegates. The debate was opened by Dr. Leonard, of the Cincinnati conference. He began by saying he had received a number of letters urging him not to speak in favor of admitting women. He was a strong advocate for the admission of women delegates. The women, though they ought not to be recognized, ought to be allowed to [illegible] delegates.

Rev. John Miller, president of Drew theological seminary, spoke against the admission of women. If the question were submitted to a vote of session he believed nine out of ten would be against it.

Rev. R. J. Day, of the New York conference, also argued against the admission of women. He thought the question, before it is settled, should be submitted to a general vote of the church. Women, he said, lacked the necessary experience, and if admitted would weaken the force of the lay delegation.

The Fur Monopoly.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—The secretary of the interior today transmitted to the house a report by Governor Swineford of Alaska, upon the operations of the Alaska Seal and Fur company, in which he alleges that the company has grossly abused the natives, and attaches affidavits to sustain the charges. He concludes with a quotation from his last annual report that it would be better to allow every fur seal to be exterminated than to continue to blighting a monopoly. Attached is an affidavit by Isaac Anderson, resident of California, who says he was in the employ of the Alaska company, and a deputy marshal at Ounalaska. As an illustration of the company's methods in conducting business in court, he details cases where he found himself in conflict with the company whenever he attempted to protect the government's interests, and declares that no United States official can properly perform his duty in Alaska, wherever the company has any interest, without incurring its displeasure and coming into open conflict with the agents of the company.

The secretary of the treasury has sent to the house the information called for in regard to the contract of the Alaska Commercial company to take seals in Alaska. The secretary says the lease to take seals in Alaska was for a term of twenty years from May 1st, 1870. The condition relative to the tax of 55 cents per gallon on seal oil was rescinded February 16th, '74. The total receipts by the government from the seal fisheries from May, '70, to June, '87, was $7,[illegible] and expenditures on that account were $200,000. The secretary says the records of the department as far as he is advised show no violation of the terms of the lease. Attached to the letter is a list of vessels seized for taking seals without authority.

An Atchison Deal.

BOSTON, May 4.—The Post says to-day: There have been whispers in the air for some time past regarding a big deal on foot by the Atchison. It now transpires, and we have our information from good sources, that the something in the air is a grand consolidation, or better absorption of the St. Louis & San Francisco railway system by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe. It is further reported that this transaction is practically accomplished, barring details, which are being closed up by Colonel Nutt, president of the Atlantic & Pacific. It is claimed that the whole matter will be closed within a week at the furthest. Absorption of the St. Louis & San Francisco means the absorption of the Atlantic & Pacific and its numerous feeders [illegible] the Santa Fe control of about 8,000 miles of road.

THE RAILROAD DENIES.

BOSTON, May 4.—The officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe state positively that there is no truth in the published report of the absorption of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad by the Atchison.

Race Troubles in the South.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., May 4.—A special to the Advertiser reports a bad condition of affairs in Lowndes county, growing out of the recent lynching of a negro murderer by a white mob. The negroes have been threatening vengeance, it seems, and to-day a sheriff with a posse went to Sandy Ridge and arrested fifteen negroes. On the way back to Hayneville, the county seat, the posse encountered a mob of armed negroes. A conflict ensued and two white men were wounded and several negroes killed. Affairs [illegible] are now quiet, the negroes dispersed. They are reported to be assembling in their numbers and [illegible] sheriff telegraphed to the governor for troops. Four companies from Montgomery are now leaving for the scene.

Powderly Not a Candidate.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—General Master Workman Powderly has written a letter in which after quoting from letters from all sections of the country, and from articles in various labor papers giving him advice as to what should be done at the coming election, he says: As the campaign warms up I will be annoyed still more, and take this opportunity to state that I am not a candidate for anything. I don't favor turning the Knights of Labor into a party, and will not have anything to do with parties.

Denver is still in the subsidy business. Its business men have just raised $500 to pay the rent of a business man for a year. When it is thought best to encourage a man to start in business by paying this paltry rent, it looks as though Denver was badly in need of business men.

In considering the future of this city it is just as well to keep this fact in mind. There will be only two lines from the east built into Colorado this year, and both these lines will come into this city. We ought to have two or three large hotels building now to accommodate the people that are coming.

Gresham has more popular sentiment in his favor today than any other candidate. Considering that Indiana had already practically declared for Harrison it was an extraordinary act for Illinois to [illegible] and endorse him. It shows the people are for Gresham while the politicians are for Harrison.

The New York Graphic has a very clever cartoon showing a democratic and republican photograph of Blaine. The former represents him as a physical wreck, while the latter gives him a John [illegible] appearance. Whatever the facts are the democrats think he is strong enough while the republicans would like to feel sure that he was good for five years more work.

The report we published of the Hon. E. O. Wolcott's speech was a meagre one, but most of our readers have seen the full reports in the Denver papers, no report however could do it justice. It aroused the greatest enthusiasm and adds to Mr. Wolcott's reputation as an orator. It is a significant fact that the two great speeches opening the campaign in the northwest for each of the two great political parties were delivered by Colorado men.

The nomination of Private Joe Eifer to be the republican candidate for governor of Illinois was a splendid illustration of the possibilities for honor placed before any American citizen, regardless of his poverty or lowly birth. The fact that he served three years in the army as a private only emphasizes the illustration. The following biographical article from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat gives the story of what ability, ambition and honesty can contribute to success:

Joseph W. Eifer was born in Staunton, Va., and in 1837 moved with his father to the western part of McLean county, Ills. His father was a practical brick mason, and Joseph, when not busy with farm work, assisted at his father's trade. At the outbreak of the war Joseph and his brother, George H., were among the first to go from McLean county to the front. They joined the 23d Illinois infantry at Bloomington. The regiment filled its full share of marching and [illegible] who was the older of the two brothers, was made first lieutenant of his company. He was killed in the battle of Esperanza, Tex. Joseph served for over three years in the ranks and participated in many of the [illegible] Jackson, Miss., when Sherman's force assaulted the intrenchments of Johnston, young Eifer was pierced through the body with a rifle ball. His recovery for some time was considered doubtful and almost impossible, but his rugged constitution helped more than anything else to roll him safely out of danger. He left his regiment and went to his father's home, where he remained only until he had fully recovered from his terrible wound. He then joined his company at the front and fought until the time of his enlistment expired.

Mr. Eifer went to Bloomington in 1864 and entered, as a student, the Illinois Wesleyan university, in company with his younger brother, John. Joseph collected the taxes of his township, Danvers, for two winters, doing the most of the work on Saturdays. He did many other things which helped to replenish his emaciated exchequer, and which enabled him and his brother to pay for their education at the university. Joseph was a good student. His favorite studies were mathematics, logic and philosophy. In June, 1868, he secured his diploma, but for nearly a year before he graduated he devoted one half of his time to the study of law, in the office of Prince & Bloomfield. In 1869 he hung his shingle to the breeze and announced himself a candidate for the honors and rewards of his chosen profession.

In the spring of 1871 Mr. Eifer was elected city attorney counsel of the city of Bloomington. One year later he was the unanimous choice of the McLean county republicans for state's attorney, he was elected to the office by an overwhelming majority. This position he held for eight years, when he was elected to the senate. As state's attorney Mr. Eifer made himself a terror to the criminal classes. He was pitted on several occasions upon some of the great [illegible] lawyers of Illinois and he proved himself their peer in legal learning and [illegible] As an advocate Mr. Eifer [illegible] goods and not [illegible] He is well versed in [illegible] of law, and knows how to [illegible] to the affairs of life. He is one of the best types of the successful lawyer.

[illegible] important of the [illegible] to consolidating [illegible] His part in the [illegible] sessions was [illegible] and beneficial to [illegible] of the state generally. in which he has made such a pronounced success.

In March, 1886, Hon. S. H. West, for two terms minority representative in the legislature from McLean county, and one of the ablest democrats in the county, wrote a letter in which he dwelt at length upon Mr. Eifer's qualities, and said that he knew of nothing in the life of Lincoln, or Garfield, or any other man that exhibited cool, brave and gallant fight against adverse circumstances as that made by Joe Eifer since the war.

Mr. Boss Only Whispered.

New York Evening Sun

As Mr. Walter A. Boss a well-known hat jobber of Reading, Pa., was walking up Broadway, near Canal street, this morning a tall man in a stylish grey business suit suddenly clapped him on the shoulder and said in the hearty tone of an old acquaintance:

"Hello, old man! When are you coming in to see us?"

"Eh?" said Mr. Boss. "You have the advantage of me, sir. I don't remember you."

"Nonsense," protested the tall man. "You bought a big line of groceries from me about two months ago for your Columbus store. Isn't it about time you added to your stock?"

"You certainly are mistaken," persisted Mr. Boss. "I never bought a stock of groceries in my life, and I don't live in Columbus. I'm in the hat business, and I live in Reading."

"Isn't your name Sanderson?"

"No; my name is Boss."

"Well, well, then you [illegible] I suppose I must be mistaken, but I'd have sworn you were Sanderson. I beg pardon, sir. Good day." And the tall man walked down Canal street, while Mr. Boss continued on Broadway.

Near the corner of Spring street a short, stout man of middle age stepped out from a doorway and called after him:

"Boss! Boss! Hold up! Where are you going in such a hurry?"

Mr. Boss stopped and looked at the stout man in surprise.

"Don't you remember me," said the man. "Don't you remember Acker, of Philadelphia? Met you in Reading last winter."

"I know an Acker in business at Eighth and Market streets, Philadelphia, but [illegible]"

"Yes, he's my cousin," interrupted the stout man. "I'm of the Passaic Mills, you know, and if you're going back to Reading soon I've got a commission for you. I've got some samples of cloth that I want you to take to Henry Eckert of your town for me. I've got to go to Portland this afternoon, and then I'm going to Europe for a short trip. If you'll take the samples for me it'll be a big favor. They're right up the street, and if you'll come with me now I'll [illegible]"

Mr. Boss caught a glimpse of the tall man who had just accosted him standing in a doorway across the street at this juncture, and a light dawned upon him. Mr. Boss put the index finger of his right hand alongside of his nose, looked the stout man squarely in the eye, and said softly:

"Bunco!"

The effect was magical. The stout man stopped talking instantly, and, in two seconds, had turned the nearest corner like a flash. The tall man went rapidly in another direction. Mr. Boss continued meditatively up Broadway. "He's got a big story to tell when he gets back to Reading, though."

The Long One and the Short One.

New Zealand Times.

There is a story about old Peter Fawcett, the New South Wales supreme court judge who lately retired. He was somewhat short-sighted, and one day a very diminutive barrister appeared before him to move something or other. When the short man stood up alongside [illegible] who was sitting down, their heads were about on a level, and as soon as the small man began: "If your honor please, I [illegible] "Ye must stand up when ye address the court," interrupted old Peter, irascibly. "I am standing up," said the small man, with dignity. "Then tell the gentleman alongside ye to sit down."

SOMETHING NEW.

Having just received one of the largest consignments of WALL PAPER that was ever brought to El Paso county, at one time; and in order to dispose of it quick, and to give our patrons a share of the profits, we have concluded to give three grand prizes, that shall be a benefit to every property holder in the county. To every purchaser of six double rolls of Paper, and over and border for the same amount of paper, we shall give a chance in a GRAND DRAWING for the papering of three parlors in, three different ways, the size of the parlor not to exceed 16x18.

THE FIRST PRIZE Shall be for papering ceiling and walls with the very best hand-made Embossed Paper in our store, the lucky party to select the paper. The wood work to be painted or stained to match the paper.

SECOND PRIZE The ceiling and walls to be papered with Colored Bronze Paper; wood work painted or stained to match.

THIRD PRIZE The ceiling and walls papered with a flat paper; that is, a paper without gilt; wood work painted or stained to match.

The mode of drawing will be by tickets, with name and number, put in a box, which will be [illegible] until the 31st day of July, 1888. Then all tickets small be placed in a revolving wheel and a disinterested party blind-folded shall draw out one ticket, which shall indicate the owner of the first prize. The second and third in the same manner shall then be drawn.

FASHIONS FOR THE FAIR.

THE ALL ABSORBING BONNET AND THE NEW SHAPES IT TAKES.

New Styles, in Gowns for Walking, Indoor Use—A Tasteful Lawn Tennis Suit—A New Remedy to Make the Hands White.

[Special Correspondence.]

New York, April 26.

THIS, harping on bonnets, I think I hear some one exclaim, but I write these few lines to inform you all that bonnets are now as they always will be, the most important notes of the day to all womankind, and this is for women only and men are requested to skip it and go on with their politics and, for that matter, they are always more pitiful than bonnets.

What does a woman care whether Bulgaria is really protected under the Berlin treaty or not, or whether the Russians are working toward Herat or the English have their eyes upon some far away country, so long as she can feast her eyes upon a good representation of the very newest and handsomest bonnets which have just come from France? What a woman wants to know just now is whether those old gowns and queer coats and hats and [illegible] of those cedar trunks, upstairs, and which belonged to her grandmothers' mothers could really be worn.

ONE OF THE FINEST.

We therefore, proceed to set their minds at rest upon that. They can. A woman can wear anything now and be in the [illegible] from the Directoire down. "One of the finest" is an exact reproduction of a walking suit, hat and all, made for a young married lady of New York, and it can be seen at a glance how closely it apies the old style of a century ago.

The bonnet which is worn with that is three stories and a basement high. Some of the hats are so large that it is a wonder how they can be held on the head as strings are never worn with hats, and few bonnets have them. The three bonnets of a kind are meant to show that it is not against the law to wear a small bonnet if one really wants to, and has no one to say to, boss, and say you shan't wear big ones, and they are more becoming anyhow. These are pretty sure to be becoming to almost any style of face, according to the way the hair is dressed. They are particularly suited to theatre and church. One milliner calls small bonnets of the kingdom of heaven. When I asked her the meaning of that somewhat irreverent phrase she said it was because they were peacemakers, instead of being peace breakers, like the big hats, and that we all know that peacemakers are of the kingdom of heaven.

This is now the season when young ladies will be looking over their treasures in dry goods to see whether they can make last year's lawn tennis suit do and if their old yachting gown will stand another season. Almost any kind of flannel or serge will do. A late idea is to have a couple of flags embroidered on the front of the bottom of the skirt in colors. The jackets may be of velveteen with a white flannel blouse, and in this way the cost of a yachting or seaside suit can be made very small and still have an effective costume. Many leave the hair to flow loose on such occasions, as it is thought the sunshine and sea air are of benefit to its growth.

A pretty tennis suit is made of striped satin or flannel, and trimmed with bands of striped braid. This is very graceful, and it would be also quite appropriate for a yachting trip, a traveling dress, or even for morning outdoor wear in summer. The hat can be trimmed in any way to suit the wearer. Some have woolen rosettes, made much like a pompon, in front, and others have field flowers and grass. You can have anything in the world upon your hats or other clothes these days and be entirely in fashion. I saw one hat with a common cotton clothesline wound three times round it, tied in a double bow knot, with picked out ends, and the hat looked wonderfully cute and stylish. All these things depend upon the inventive genius of women. Girls who might easily make or wear all these little trifles are too much afraid to do so for fear some one will imagine it a makeshift of poverty, but they will go into a store and buy the ray same thing and exult heavenly.

I knew a young girl once who was invited to a ball, and she had just $5 to buy a whole outfit with. She bought a dress pattern of white [illegible] at twenty-five cents per yard, and made it up with a full skirt, and another skirt which hung over it nearly to the bottom. This she draped and held by bunches of real ivy leaves and some red berries. A dol ar bought her a pair of gloves, and to the tops of these, which were not so long. She wished, she added, a full ruching of inked-out Lisa tarlatan, and for the other $50 she she got a pair of slippers of course who had the necessary undercloth ing, etc., and lining for her dress, but the fact remains that this same young lady took her place among the [illegible] of New York at a grand ball and was one of the most admired there, and she had many compliments on the originality and beauty of her dress.

A very pretty wedding dress is illustrated in this article, copied from one worn by Miss Minnie Rogers, the lady [illegible], at one of her recent entertainments. It was of cream colored moire antique trimmed with dotted tulle, with scarlet poppies and and red woven stripes, of what our grandmothers used to call "linsey woolsey." It is a thick, rather stiffish material, exactly alike on both sides, and made up in the fashion represented makes a handsome and stylish costume, depending much upon the wearer for its grace.

This season, in everything they do it is possible, the old and [illegible] jewelry are preferred, and among the queer designs one may find green enameled frogs, stretched out along a circlet of gold, for bracelets; a lizard of gold is made of all kinds of jewels, to give it many colors, for an ornament for the hair. For a scarf pin there is a jewsharp, a real one set in a gold frame with a silver tongue. Another scarf pin has four cloves set in the form of a four leafed clover. Flower designs for ordinary jewelry are preferred by most ladies, though those with sporting tendencies prefer gold race horses [illegible] shoes and other similar devices.

Now that [illegible] on, I wish to tell [illegible] young and old ladies, and gentlemen, that there is nothing in the world which will make their hands and faces so soft and white as to wash them in tomato pulp. The way to do it is to take a large ripe [illegible], [illegible] immediately mash it in the hands, wash the hands in the wash and afterward rinse them in clear water. There is an acid in the tomato which is very penetrating, and it will remove stains from linen as well as [illegible] from the human cuticle and will take moth patches and stains from the face just as easily.

There may be some who wouldn't like to use a plebeian tomato. Such can take a lemon, cut off the points of the ends, then cut the lemon in two in the middle. Stand the parts up, smell cut end downward, and put on each cut half four lumps of sugar and set them in the oven until the sugar has all dissolved and gone into the lemon; then rub one half of the lemon on each hand, put on an old pair of gloves and keep them on until morning, when they will be soft and white and smooth. The juice is not sticky as one might think, but appears oily and is a very excellent remedy for rough, red or chapped hands, much in use among the Turkish women.

OLIVE HARPER.

Our Thanks.

The citizens of this place have placed us under obligations to them again, because of their interest taken in the entertainment given by our pupils Thursday evening. The kind words spoken and the liberal patronage extended by quite a number have cheered the hearts of these unfortunate ones, and thus made life's burden easier.

We had hoped that the attendance would be larger and the receipts heavier, but this is not the fault of those who so kindly aided. We are gratified to be able to state that the entertainment was a financial success.

We feel under peculiar obligations to those who not only extended liberal patronage, but gave much of their time and effort to secure larger attendance. Among these I must mention Messrs. Rhoads, Lawton, Strieby, Giddings and Barnes, and the editors of the city who have done all we could ask. In behalf of these children, we thank you all.

Washington, April 26. Dear Lizzie: Since I have been here I have now left on the great old farmer to the fronts on the back of the fire and the home of the brave, and I have been [illegible] for the short while I have been [illegible] This pleasant [illegible] town where I was born and [illegible] last week and left [illegible] largest [illegible] and [illegible] [illegible] history of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] declined to be a candidate [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] letter was carefully [illegible] and [illegible] in my house paper. The Washington [illegible] and Farmers Visitor [illegible] have been a party supporter [illegible] years, and when it got before the [illegible] and was read, there was a general [illegible] all over the deestrick and a [illegible] of Waxem or nobody! I may have had some doubts about my [illegible] before, and there might be some grounds for it, for no man is as perfick as we think he ought to be, though we aint that away ourselves; but that letter settled everything, and when my [illegible] was thrown down the bars for em now to come in, they put their heads together and unanimously come to the conclusion that the man that wasn't seekin the office was the man the office ought to go to. This was the voice of the people, but there was considerable harmonizin to do amongst the politicians. You are aware, Mr. Edditor, that politics is composed of two ellerments—the [illegible] air in it for love and them that [illegible] for money. The people air in it for love, and it is the people that does the enterin [illegible] The people was with me and I knowed I'd git elected if I got the nomination, and many promises I had to use strategems and promises. It's a pore stic [illegible] that aint [illegible]

On the day of the convention in Way [illegible] the court house and there was several scatterin and undecided delegates on hands ready for ruin and rebellion, but my friends was orderly wheres to once and the bar in the tavern was decorated with national mottoes and other patriotic and soul stirrin sines, and they seen to it that everything was as free as our great and glorious republican institutions. This state of affairs was continued up to dinner time, and at 1 o'clock, when the convention [illegible] I [illegible] that my letter was goin to be voted down peremptorily and the riter thereof was goin to come in with fifth orders. On the first three or four ballots my name didn't appear at all scarcely and the opposition began to take hope, but the votes was unaccountably scatterin and they couldn't git them bunched to save their sivils. Things was sitting mighty mixed, and I was sittin [illegible] when all to once my right hand man, Col. McSwiggles, the Wayback postmaster, that I got the job for, jumped in his place on the flure, and in a beautiful and patriotick speech cast the entire vote of the Wayback delegation for W. Q. Waxem, the present able, industrious, energetic and statesmanlike incumbent, and then with a rush of mighty warrios, the other delleguations swung into line, and before I knowed what had happened I was nominated unanimously and the court room was resoundin with shouts of "Waxem!" "Waxem!" "Waxem!" Who is the people's choice?" "Where is the statesman of Wayback?" "Bring in the patriot!" and so forth, in which the good, healthy voice of Col. McSwiggles could be heered very distinct in my seclusion in the clerk's office in hearin distance of all that was goin on. A committy was picked out to hunt me up and bring me in to hear the good news, and they found me across the rode helpin a feeble old lady on her hoss at the tavern hoss block, and this little [illegible] of [illegible] seemed to make me solider than ever, for when I was escorted before the convention the chairman of the committy committy, with tears in his eyes, told the delegates where he had found me, and the applause was thunderious. You see, Mr. Edditer, what a mighty little thing will do if it is handled right.

I made a speech acceptin this thribble expression of their confidence, refered to my record of the past, and with numerous promises I bowed and quit.

The convention then upon assorted across the rode to the tavern and organized for an all night session. I took an active part as long as I was able, and in the mornin when I woke up I begun to tell Mandy about the events of the auspicious occasion. I must of talked five minutes without her sayin a word, which I thought was rather unusual, not to say unnatural, and then I began to feel queer, like a cat in a strange garret, and I got up and shook myself and looked around, and, Mr. Edditer, as shore as snakes I was in one of the bed rooms of the tavern, but how I got there and when I was able to say. I reckon durin the excitement of the convention and the subsequent proceedins, my nerves must of give way and I jist settled down any wheres. I have notist the same thing befor at progions conventions.

I am now agin in the national capital, and am feelin fust rate. I me takin more intrust in affairs of state, for I no more of my place for two years more, and this feelin is hatural to the statesman's mind.

The dead lock is broke and the current of legislation is movin slowly along like a mighty river. The tariff bill has been set before us and we air [illegible] our turtle assussin. We can't hope to git it to fit every need of every deestrick, but we can let the world and our immejate voters kno what we think of it, and I reckon every statesman in the house will get his name in The Congressional Record before a vote is reached.

We air also doin a good deal of talkin on the labor question. The ordinary workin citizens of this great and glorious republic haint the faintest idee how hard his lot is, how he is oppressed by the tyrant hoel of capital and how much he is sufferin till he hears a congressman with a big workingmen's majority in his deestrick get up on the floor and go to discussin the relations of capital and labor.

I have heerd lately that there is a movement somewhar on foot to elect congress out from the numerous and discuss the lobbyist, and giv lawyers a chance to handel ther business at a reguler perscribed fee. In some respects this wouldent be a bad idee, but if we air not to have lobbyists, whar air we goin to git our champane dinners, our wet treats, and our fine seegars? Our galleries don't permit that kind of legislation, and we naterally looked to the lobbyist for perfection; but if they take him away from us, we air

SATURDAY, MAY 5, 1888.

Little Puck at the Opera House this evening.

Mr. M. B. Irvine has filed his notarial commission with the county clerk.

There are now five large camps of Rock Island grader's immediately east of Granger.

Weather permitting there will be a shoot this afternoon at four o'clock on the gun club grounds west of the Monument.

Mrs. M. J. Hobbs has filed a plat of the town of Mont Clair with the county clerk. Mont Clair is south of and immediately adjoining Calvert Heights near Colorado City.

Reserved seats are on sale for Hallen & Hart's engagement at the opera house on next Monday evening. Seats can be procured at the Midland ticket office, No. 112 East Pike's Peak avenue.

Mr. J. H. Woodgate, one of the pioneer residents of Colorado Springs, and who is now out of the proprietors of the Delta Independent, is in the city and will remain for two or three days.

City Engineer Reid stated yesterday that work will probably begin on the sewerage system by June 1st. The work will probably be done by contract, and will require about sixty or seventy men.

Messrs. H. F. Sody and R. S. Poley have arrived in the city from Boulder, and right away opened an extensive and finely appointed photographic gallery at No. 112 North Tejon street in about two weeks.

A meeting of the republican precinct committee will be held to-day to make arrangements for holding the republican primaries next Wednesday. The committee consists of F. W. Howbert, H. C. [illegible] and G. Dreyer.

The Rio Grande Railroad company will sell round trip tickets to the democratic national convention at St. Louis on June 5th for $32.50, good to return to June 13th. The round trip to the republican national convention at Chicago on June 19th will be $33.50, good to return to June 27th, will be $37.50.

Yesterday afternoon the preliminary examination of the men under arrest for the Calloway & Stark robbery was begun before Justice of the Peace Shideler. County Attorney Campbell appeared for the prosecution and [illegible] for the defense. The examination will be continued to-day.

A meeting of the committee of the city council on finance and sewerage was held in the council chamber last evening. The meeting was for the purpose of considering some details concerning the proposed system of sewerage. The plans and specifications of the system were explained to the committee by the city engineer.

Mr. E. P. Moon, of Hursted, has furnished us with the following weather record for the week ending May 2nd: Highest temperature, 72, on the 1st; lowest temperature, 21, on the 29th; highest daily mean temperature, 57, on the 1st; lowest daily mean temperature, 31, on the 28th; weekly mean temperature, 44.8; prevailing direction of the wind, south; clearest days, 30th and 1st; cloudiest days, 29th and 28th.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. E. J. Hand, Mrs. Bonch and Miss Elsworthy arrived in the city from Denver. They were immediately driven to Evergreen cemetery to witness the interment of the bodies of Mrs. Kearney and little Jamie Hand. A minister of this city read the burial service of the Episcopal church. The party returned to Denver on the Salt Lake express. Sheriff Jackson returned from Denver early yesterday morning. He stated that there were no new developments in the case. An effort is being made to induce Governor Adams to offer a reward for the capture of the murderer.

There was a small attendance at the meeting of the board of trade held last evening. The meeting was called to order by President Ehrich. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Mr. G. R. Buckman, chairman of the advertising committee, read a letter from Congressman Symes concerning the passage of the Lake Morain bill. Mr. Symes thought that he would have no difficulty in passing the bill if he could get it before the house, or have it reported by the committee on public lands. Mr. Buckman stated that on address setting forth the vital importance of the bill to this city had been framed and sent to every member of the committee. Also that copies of the New Year's GAZETTE had been forwarded to all the congressmen. He also said that the committee on advertising would present at the next meeting of the board a definite plan of advertising the city. On motion of Mr. Buckman the Manitou road, the viaduct, and the establishing of a [illegible] were made special subjects for consideration at the next meeting. The board then adjourned.

The closing exhibition of Professor H. G. Dutcher's Saturday afternoon juvenile [illegible] was given last evening in Armory hall in the presence of a large number of spectators. Thomas Chalmers of the class acquitted themselves in a manner [illegible] to the credit of their teacher. [illegible]

Losses Promptly and Satisfactorily Adjusted

STRANGERS, and others not posted in our Real Estate Market, often ask the question, "Where can I best invest my money to be sure of Quick and Profitable returns?"

1st. I would say, select a locality where you have the most SUNSHINE the least [illegible] and GRAND MOUNTAIN SCENERY, etc.

2nd. See that you locate where you can enjoy the best WATER ADVANTAGES. Remember that without Water in this country is a desert, and when I say "BEST WATER ADVANTAGES" I mean not only for irrigating purposes, which is very important, but also for all DOMESTIC PURPOSES. Our water supply at present is limited, and unless greatly increased the time is near at hand when every drop will be needed inside [illegible] city limits.

3rd. Do not locate where lots are too low in price. Low priced LOTS being low priced HOUSES and PALACE, surrounded by shanties will never sell for half its value. Better economize in other ways and secure a lot that will increase in value.

4th. Dont wait until the "Rock Island" comes in and then pay 25 per cent more than present price.

5th. Lastly, call and see us and we will convince you that "BOULDER HEIGHTS" has more to offer than the above advantages.

FOR RENT—FURNISHED.

The Granger Land and Town Co.

Now Offers For Sale the Entire

Town Site of Granger,

EL PASO COUNTY, COLORADO.

GRANGER is situated on the line of the Denver, Texas & Gulf R. R., about 18 miles northeast of Colorado Springs, in the center of the best Agricultural District in Colorado. The rainfall is sufficient to perfect good crops, and irrigation is entirely unnecessary. All the available Land within a radius of twenty miles can be taken up by bona fide settlers, and improvements are rapidly being made on all the occupied land.

Granger has one of the best Town Sites in the State. It commands an extended view in every direction. The site is almost perfectly level, with a slight fall to the southeast. Water is obtainable within 10 feet of the surface on the entire Town Site. The streets are all 80 feet in width, and the lots are all 50x150, excepting the business lots, which are 25x150 feet. The town lies on both sides of the railroad. The Surveyed Line of THE CHICAGO AND ROCK ISLAND RAILROAD Runs Parallel with that of the DENVER, TEXAS & GULF RAILROAD through the Center of the Town, and forms a Junction with the latter at this point, and will be the Construction Headquarters of Rock Island Extension in Colorado. Granger is destined to become an important town in the near future by reason of its location. It is an Objective Point on the lines of all the Railroads now heading for the Rocky Mountains, and also the first point that is located in a Rich and Fertile Region, where good water is reached at a shallow depth. It is an important shipping point on the D., T. & G. R. R. for a large section of country. In the matter of business handled Granger ranks third on the line of the road.

The lots will be sold on the popular "Installment Plan" as follows:

PRICE: $25.00 Each.

The drawing for location, due notice of which will be given, will occur not later than June 1st next, and will be conducted by a competent committee selected by the certificate holders. The company will include in the drawing every alternate lot in the entire town site as platted, beginning with lot 1 in each block, reserving only numbers 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 18 and 19 in block 1; number 16 in block 2; numbers 1, 21 and 22 in block 11; numbers 17, 18 and 32 in block 12; numbers 15 and 16 in block 21; number 18 in block 22; number 17 in block 33; numbers 1, 2 and 3 in block 41; and block 23.

All these lots have been sold and deeded. The object in reserving thus each alternate lot throughout the entire plat, and selling the other at the low price of $25, when there is not a lot in the entire site but what is well worth $100 to $200 and improve over the entire plat. After the drawing prices will be advanced on lots reserved. Lots will be for sale for only a limited time at the following places:
